

WEBINAR

LEVERAGING GLOBAL HUMAN RIGHTS TO PROTECT OUR CITIES

How can activists and local governments use global human rights mechanisms to protect our communities?

Panelists

• Lisa Borden

Deputy Federal Policy Director
Southern Poverty Law Center

• Jamil Dakwar

Director, Human Rights Program
American Civil Liberties Union

• Amy Bergquist

Associate Program Director
International Justice Program
The Advocates for Human Rights (Minneapolis)

Facilitated by:

Manisha Desai

Director, Center for Changing Systems of Power
Stony Brook University
Board Member, Human Rights Cities Alliance

As communities across the U.S. face growing threats to human rights and democratic protections, this panel of legal experts, advocates, and scholars will discuss how international human rights can be a tool for cities and local movements serving as the front line defenders of human rights

Wednesday, April 8
6:00–7:15 PM ET |
3:00PM PT

LINK

